LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED IN ONE MINUTE!

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street,
Bet. Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADVERTISEment in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By one Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt on the inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc. Respectfully, etc.,

A. E. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL
Lock Picker or Thimble-rigger
Required to OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at 318 Battery street, San Francisco.

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase one of his

So-called "Fire Proof Safes,"

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything was Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenrie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make), and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar —such as lard, pork, etc.—their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring, however, no better than our own.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
[Signed:] GEO. L. CHESBRO & CO.

THE ONLY PROTECTION
Against Fire and Burglars.
For the last Fifteen Years

This safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that out of one of our safes by means of burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.

No man ever lost a dollar

A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at

No. 318 Battery street, San Francisco.

THE HUMAN HAIR

HAS LONG BEEN THE STUDY OF THE most scientific men of the age, from the fact that close study generally causes the hair to fall off prematurely; and, in consequence, they have given the subject a portion of their valuable time, trying to invent some method to regain their lost looks; but all their labor was in vain, until after many years of hard study devoted to this one subject, has produced an article that

WILL MAKE THE HAIR GROW,

and which, by its use as a Hair Dressing, will effectually and always prevent its loss—even to extreme old age. Happily, the while possessing these virtues, is most delightful and agreeable without regard to their virtue. The hair, when diseased, becomes dry, and commences to turn grey, which is caused by the non-secretion by the capillary glands of a peculiar oil. It has therefore been thought and believed that if the glands were stimulated into action, they would still give a sufficient supply of nourishment to the hair; but alas! they forget one very important law of nature, viz: that ALL STIMULANTS HAVE THEIR REACTION; and the more the glands were stimulated—the sooner the final loss of the much prized locks. The principle of the preparation invented by Professer Crockett is entirely the opposite—instead of stimulating the capillary glands, he feeds them with the substance they require, and, in turn, the hair is fed by them—on the same principle as giving water to a flower. All we will say to those who are timid about trying new preparations is, that we strictly guarantee the AMYGDALINE to be entirely free from all stimulants, and is as harmless as filtered water, and can be used on the smallest infant. As a

it is unequalled by any the world has yet produced. It keeps the head entirely free of dandruff, eruption, pimples—imparting to the hair a beautiful glossy softness not obtained by an known compound. It will also be found both pleasant and useful as a Cosmetique, rpassing cold cream and face lotions in its effects; for chaps, sore breast and nipples we know of no remedy that is equal to it.

THE PERFUME

used is such that the AMYGDALINE will always retain, it will not become rancid by age; in fact, it is perfect in every particular. Professor Crockett's Amygdaline can be had of all druggists and dealers everywhere. Price 50 cents.

Ask for Crockett's Amygdaline, and take no other. se25-6m

THE NECKAR BRIDGE;

OR, THE LEAP OF THE ARCH-DUKE ULRICH VON WURTEMBERG.

Loud roaring, Oh, Neckar! was the sound of thy water,
High swollen thy torrent, all foaming thy wave,
As Wurtemberg, vanquished, returned from the slaughter,
When driven for safety thy surges to brave.

One look to thy billows, one look to high Heaven,
And he spurred on his charger to take the wild leap;
The steed bounded high as he felt the spur given,
And gallantly sprang o'er the battlement's steep.

Tho' fearful the plunge, undismayed by the danger,
Rather Ulrich was tempted to brave thy dark wave
Than to fall by the pitiless sword of "the stranger,"
Scorned by the Erbfiend* of fatherland wave.

So through thy deep waters the steed bore his master,
Who little dreamed then that in history's page
A leaf he was writing, that never hereafter,
Should fade from the memory—Duke Ulrich was saved! E. C.

DRAFTS FROM A DIARY.

WRITTEN IN REBELDOM.

By a Late Prisoner of War.

NUMBER TWO.

A WINTER'S DAY AT CAMP GROCE.

There is no fuel in camp. Who will volunteer as "hewers of wood" to-day? Loud sounds the cheery voice of Captain D——, whilom of good ship "Morning Light," and now chief skipper of our prison hulks. Anon the lumbering oxteam, dragging a wagon, and urged on by goading whip of negro driver, rolls across the prison lines, and we fall in, guarded by a rebel detail, to the work of "log-rolling." Down past the well, where captive tars and landlubbers are waiting turns to draw their bucketfulls of water for the breakfast meal—shivering wights, snuffing the keen north wind that whistles through their ragged garments, slapping their half-numbed hands together, and dancing on the cold turf, to impart some circulation to the chilled blood in their naked feet. A white frost clings to the grass, and rimes the bushes with its glittering lace. The sun has not yet climbed those greyish clouds that race athwart the east, and "it is a nipping and an eager air" which whips them seaward.

Down by the oaks and pecan-trees: under moss-laden cypresses, and through the scrubby mulberry and tea bushes; skirting that sombre hillock where we bury our dead, and following the cattle path until we penetrate "the timber." The ox-cart crushes through tangled vines and over rotten stumps, wheels round a fallen cedar, and is headed to the north again; the rebel guards squat here and there, with rifles on their knees; while we, with ringing axes, make short work of Texan timber-growth. Down surge the youthful oaks; in scattered fragments lay the limbs and trunks of sturdy hickory: we emulate the woodmen of Virgilian pastorals, whose toils are scanned in a school-boy couplet:

"Trees on trees o'erthrown,
Fall crackling round us, and the forests groan."

Then "comes the tug;" to "pack" our heavy spoils; huge logs uplifted over wheels, and piled upon the wain; such loads as once we might have deemed Titanic burthens, now tossed lightly on the towering fuel-heap. Thereafter, we march prisonward, to barracks, with our appetites well sharpened for tough beef and "corn-dodgers."

Indoors the bunks are cold and damp. This keen wind searches through their gaping crevices. Our cook house, with its stoves, allures a knot of icy-blooded invalids to cower beneath incumbent pots and pans of grumbling stewards. The barracks boast no stoves, but we have digged two fireplaces below the flooring line, at either wing, and pierced some apertures in the wooden roof, to serve as smoke holes. So, like Hottentots in kraals, or Esquimaux in snow-huts, we hibernate beneath continual clouds of pungent vapor, eye-blinding and lung-choking.

Presently the whistle of our north wind rises to a howl around the barracks. Thick hurricanes, driving hills of dust, and banks of leaves before them, scud across the railway cuts. Ere long chill drops of heavy rain plash down upon our roofs. The Dry Norther has passed, and the Wet Norther comes roaring in his wake, with the "noise of many waters." Plash, splash, dash! The yellow sands become wide pools of muddy rain. The blast careens through bending tree-tops, wrenching knotty boughs away, and threshing off their wet leaves as the chaff is plaited from corn.

"All hands to caulk ship!" cries a watchful man-of-war's-man, who, half cook, half caterer, chalks his number in our officer's quarters. Timely call, O ancient mariner! A score of leaks make known their whereabouts by dismal percolations, drenching berths and blankets. All the roof, of shrunken pine boards, soon begins to ooze with miry moisture. Rivulets of trickling rain wind down from ridge poles. Streams descend upon the bunks and through their soaking contents. Lakes are mapped upon the muddy floor. Meantime les miserables patch up neglected holes, dam off incursive water-courses, mop up embryo ponds, and shelter clothes and blankets with what canopies they can command.

Rain, rain! through all the hours! Our hearth-fires smoulder under incubi of smoke. Our greasy banquet-boards of pine, that occupy the space between opposing rows of bunks, are dripped upon incessantly. We snatch our morsels out of dishes sprinkled on from juicy rafters. Corn-dodgers are dough, our beef half boiled, our soup soup-maigre. So we shiver through the daylight, and at night crawl into damp repose, night-mared by water-sprites—all grim-haired Kuhleborns and no sparkling Undines.

Sorry nights, then; dim, dismal, dolorous nights, for wretched ones on beds of pain and sickness. I hear the poor consumptive's dying cough; I listen to the broken words of fevered sufferers; I catch the feeble sighs of manhood lapsing into infant weakness.

How wearisome this night-watch with the sick, and yet how rife with healthful thought to one who ponders! My single candle scarcely penetrates the shadows which encompass me. The barracks are profoundly still. All sleep, except the dying!

A faint voice calls for water, and I wet the lips and forehead of a youth, who has confronted danger on a dozen battle-fields, and risen from the ranks to wear a captain's sword. I doubt if flaming batteries in his path have ever appalled him; yet he lies here now as tremulous and fearful as a girl. I scan my watch, and steal from cot to cot, with medicine to be administered at the midnight hour. I lift a comrade from his bed, as you would lift a baby. Three months ago this man might have wrestled with the strongest of us. Three days hence, we shall walk behind him to our prison graves.

I step out of the barrack door. The rain has ceased, but there is yet no starlight. The wind has lulled. The air is raw and clammy. A rebel sentry tramps on the dead-line.

A PRISON CITY.

Fancy—but no! one cannot fancy a resemblance to our grotesque city of captivity. It is a place of Succoth—of loath-dwelling in the wilderness. It is a gipsy rendezvous. It is a wigwam metropolis. It is a Tartar encampment, without houses; a Boschernan village, without oxen.

Fancy, then, a space of half-a-dozen acres, enclosed with a stockade of timbers eight feet high. One-sixth of this area is allotted to the officers, who dwell in log-cabins, erected by themselves or purchased from some former tenant. Each cabin, hut, or "shebang," as we term it, shelters and accommodates a mess. The numbers of a mess are various; some messes have no more than three, and others muster ten or twelve. These "shebangs" are arranged in streets, right-angled with a central thoroughfare, called "Fifth Avenue." Midway, a platform, covered with a canopy of pine boughs, is the market-place. To this, each day, the rebel commissary sends our rations, beef and corn-meal. These are apportioned between messes in the ratio of their numbers, the meat and meal being brought in bulk, and given to the hands of weighers chosen from our own officers. The cattle have been butchered by selected men from our own numbers; likewise, these experts enjoy titbits for themselves, of kidneys, livers and the like. To this meat-market comes occasionally some venturous farmer of the neighborhood, allowed to be a sutler or purveyor for the mince. Unfortunate rustic! Victim, oftentime, of misplaced confidence! His sugar—held at thirty dollars a pound—is scooped up by a dozen hands before he can identify their owners: his turkeys fly away incontinently; his sacks of flour are passed from hand to hand, and nevermore return to him; and woe, O woe! if the poor man have whisky! These Yankee foragers allow no smuggling. I know not why it was, but neither commandant nor guards were ever able to protect a sutler's stores. Perhaps they had no interest in them. But we had "Artful Dodgers" in our motley midst who would have joyed the heart of venerable Fagin! A rebel officer of the day once had his pistol stolen from him at roll-call, and we were threatened a deprivation of our meat-rations till the article should be restored. The threat was never carried out, however. Another day a rebel officer was relieved of his pipe, and next morning found it in his pocket, with the Stars and Stripes carved on its wooden bowl. Our scamps of Yankee prisoners were forever playing tricks on rebel travelers.

See, then, this camp! Besides our officer's quarter, with its streets of log huts, each a small community, every doorway shaded by a broad verandah, thick with evergreens; in some streets these verandahs joining midway, so that the whole space between the houses was protected from the sun, which only strikes our porches in checkered light at sunset through the latticed leaves. Besides this area allotted to the officers, our prison habitationst stretch on three sides, densely populated as the tenant-houses of a New York ward. What curious abodes! What odd contrivances for shelter! Here upright sticks sustain a simple thatch of leaves; there poles set slantwise, and overlaid with bark, compose an Indian lodge. Some householders are satisfied with blankets stretched across two saplings; others make a palisaded mansion, eight feet square, with stakes, inserted in the earth, like picket fences, and covered with a roof of twigs. Another's dwelling is of basket-work wrought out of ashwood peelings; beyond this is a roof composed of oak-slabs slanting from a mud wall six feet high down to the ground, and plastered with a layer of clay. Hard by the brook are caverns, excavated in the clay bank, with steep earthen staircases entering to their subterrene apartments. Two parallel avenues are thus occupied by troglodytes. All architectural "styles," from Gothic arches shaped with curving grape-vines, down to nondescript contrivances that beavers would reject for domiciles, are here elaborated or improvised, according to the thrift and taste, or lack of both, which may here characterize the squad or individual.

The entours of our camp—those free surroundings outside of stockades—consist of prairies, interspersed with timbered hills. The north gate of our prison-yard, or "corral," gives egress on an open plain, where sheep and hogs are herded, where the deer and wild fox rove, and cattle crop scant grasses. On the east are woods and cultivated lands. The west is hilly, crowned with scrubby oaks and ash. A rebel camp of cavalry and the huts of conscripts hide behind those eminences. Upon the south a hill abruptly rises, with a streamlet at its base, which flows within our southern stockade, and is called "the spring." The rebel commandant's headquarters—two or three log-houses—look down upon our corral from that hill. A gate stands midway of our western stockade, and is usually open, guarded by a sentry. Just outside this gate the rebel guard-houses are situated, with some cabins used as quarters for the guard. One frame of logs is called the "wolf pen." There offending Yankees are confined on corn and water. There, usually, some dozen rebel conscripts apprehended for desertion are immured. There, also, several citizens, accused of "Union sympathies," await removal to the provost prison of Tyler, or to Houston, where they can be tried for "treason" to the "Southern Confederacy." We Federals have an unsuspected method of communicating with those "Union men." Our boys take turns in being late at roll-call, or transgress some other rebel rule, and so are ordered "to the guard-house." This is our "police telegraph," and it works admirably.

Our "spring" is a wonderful one. It gushes out of the clay-bank cool and crystalline. It is impregnated with iron and sulphur, and the water is a perpetual tonic. We have several wooden reservoirs, to which the prisoners resort for washing purposes. The upper one contains our drinking water. This sparkling stream supplies the wants of near six thousand men, comprising prisoners and their guards. It threatened failure once, but Northern ingenuity sank the reservoirs and guaranteed perennial supplies. Shrewd Captain J., a noted mechanical and scientific genius, was our "Commissioner of Aqueducts." He trod the Sachem's decks, her bold commander, on the salt sea, but has proved himself as useful here in "fresh water" matters. To him we owed our earliest turning-lathe, and he inaugurated chair-making, which now supplies the camp with seats of every pattern—Gothic, rustic, cane-backed, willow-woven, grape-vine-wrought, and oaken-ribbed.

A SUMMER'S DAY AT CAMP FORD.

Long before daybreak the camp begins to stir. There is restlessness among our prison legions—home-sickness, doubtless, in the souls of many sleep-locked hundreds of these ragged citizens. I hear the hum of voices arising out of morning's grey shadows: the crackling of new-lighted bivouac brands; the matinal chirp of red-birds. Presently the east reddens, and I see the morning star setting over yonder wooded hills outside of our prison yard.

How royally the sun rises, atmosphered with golden mist, robed in purple haze of woodland exhalations! The camp is alive and vocal. A thousand voices call to other thousands. Tatterdemalions roll out of burrowing-places, creep up from caves, and emerge from hut-openings. Red-capped Zouaves, wide-breeched; blue-bloused cavalry men, yellow-trimmed; all hungry looking; sergeants with service stripes; jack-tars in holy-patched trowsers; waggoners in broad hats; bare-footed cannoneers—rank and file generally hatless, bootless and shirtless. They swarm out upon the main street; flow into crossways; jostle one another at cooking-fires; pass and repass, laden with fuel, rations, water vessels. Another day begins.

I mingle in the throng that pours along "Fifth Avenue." I pass the "bakery," where an enterprising New Yorker sells his ten-cent leathery doughnuts and caoutchouc grape-pies for a dollar in greenbacks. I glance a moment at our "jeweler's" window, where a corporal tinker's watches; elbow through the crowd surrounding a lieutenant's turning-lathe, which turns out chess-men at three dollars a set; peer into a door where sits a captain "editing" our prison journal, "The Old Flag;" then reach the "spring," dash head and arms in water, comb tangled locks, and look about me.

"Motley's the only wear!" says Shakespeare; and in Camp Ford we agree with him. Such costumes never were beheld before outside of Rag Fair or the "Beggar's Opera." I wish our Uncle Abraham, or Sam, could see this sans culottes procession march up Pennsylvania Avenue. Such head-gear, from a Zouave cap to rimless crowns and crownless rims, and tattered handkerchiefs, and wisps of straw! such effigies of garments! armless shirts and legless trowsers; bits of blankets tied about the loins; such patches, of every size and hue! such scarecrow figures of humanity! Their wives and mothers would not know them from the chiffoniers who rake our Northern gutters.

But they are all United States soldiers and sailors: men who have met our foes on land and wave; brave rank and file of fleets and armies sacrificed by stupid commanders, and neglected in their misery by the power which should protect them. God bless them, ragged and rough as they are, for the fire of undying loyalty burns in their bosoms, and they love the "Old Flag" in spite of those who disgrace it!

I sit down at my "shebang" door to the morning's sumptuous repast. I have corn-meal pan-cakes, with a treacle syrup made of melted sugar at eight dollars a pound in greenbacks. I have a slice of bacon, which cost two dollars per pound. I drink my coffee, made of burnt rye, and am abundantly filled.

The rebel drum is beating roll-call. I hurry to the officers' line, which rests its right upon the western gate and stretches its long ranks within the stockade. Presently the rebel adjutant rides in on horseback, followed by a score of guards with muskets, and their officers with lists of prisoners. The officers are greybacks then divide, each to a separate detachment of the Yankees. Then our names are read or spelled out by an intelligent "Southern gentleman," who is given to stammering, and makes hard work of our patronymics. Meanwhile we are standing under a broiling sun, which tries the fidgety of fat men and the temper of the leanest of us. But at length a welcome drum-roll gives dismissal, and the dress parade is over. We are our own masters for the day, within the stockade lines.

The sun mounts higher. Everybody seeks a shelter. Our rations must be drawn, for beef comes in daily; but the messmate who is "cook" attends to this. Time must be killed till dinner hour, and so we look about for weapons to waylay him with.

The noon heats come, but tempered by a pleasant northern breeze. Our green verandahs cast inviting shade. We gather at the doors with books ott read, but still pored over. I loiter over Shakspeare; dog-ear a fine-print Plutarch, lent to me by "a good Union man outside." Colonel B. comes up and chats awhile; then Major A. sits down to chess with me. I write awhile; then study tactics; then beget me to my hammock, swinging just outside the log-house, under trellised pine-boughs.

A rebel orderly comes in with letters for a few of us. The disappointed listen, wondering why their letters never come. I get a Houston paper, and a crowd surrounds my doorway, waiting for the news. "Another victory for the South!" "Ten thousand prisoners captured by Gen. Lee!" "Grant totally defeated!" "Washington to be attacked immediately!"

Cool comfort this in midsummer. It refreshes us. But nothing about "exchange." "Oh, bother on the exchange secesh paper!" "Nothing about exchange?" "Bosh!"

We eat our dinner. Beef like shoe-leather. A "duff" or corn-pudding, with molasses, at the moderate price of one thirty dollars in confederate per gallon. Rye coffee, and an after-dinner smoke, in wooden pipes, with Texan "tabac," at the rate of fifteen dollars per pound in greenbacks.

Major B. and two brave captains challenge to four-handed chess. We have a mammoth board for this absorbing game, and presently fall-to. So fly the hours.

The sun declines and locomotion re-commences. We visit and make calls. Our youngsters practice at gymnastics in the central square, where turning-poles and parallel bars have been erected. Wrestling trials are improvised among the men. A game of quoits goes on. The Kansas boys are playing at ball. More venerable prisoners sit and gossip in their arm-chairs.

We hear the thrum of stringed instruments. Our "fiddler," Captain N., is "entertaining ladies." Motherly Mrs. A., the wife of Colonel A., the rebel commandant, is visiting our corral, with divers rebel dames and damoiselles in her train. They sit in wide arm-chairs of Yankee manufacture, chat with Yankee officers, and hear their Yankee songs, accompanied with Yankee fingers upon banjoes made by Yankee hands. Meantime our Yankee fiddler tunes his catgut, and anon he gives us "Sounds from Home," which draws the tears from eyes of rebel ladies. So the twilight finds us.

Then the moon rises, silver-orbed, in an unclouded field of blue. The "secesh" visitors have gone, and Yankee instruments are struck to gayer measures. I hear Cyclopean J., the engineer, outcalling for a dance. "Gentlemen, choose your partners! Forward two! Ladies change! All balance! Promenade all!"

Dance on, poor prisoners! Cheat your hearts out of loneliness!

The Duke of Grammont was the most accomplished and witty courtier of his day. He entered one day the closet of the Cardinal Mazarin without being announced. His Eminence was amusing himself by jumping against the wall. To surprise a Prime Minister in so boyish an occupation was dangerous. Any less skillful courtier might have stammered excuses and retired. But the Duke entered briskly and cried:

"I'll bet you one hundred crowns that I jump higher than your Excellency."

And the Duke and the Cardinal began to jump for their lives. Grammont took good care to jump a few inches lower than the Cardinal, and six months afterwards was Marshal of France.

HAMLET was played in Cincinnati recently by an amateur company for the benefit of soldiers' families. Mr. Anderson, Lieutenant Governor of the State, was Hamlet; S. T. Carson, Collector of the Port, was the first grave digger; Polonius was played by a Treasury Department clerk, and the other principal characters by a Kentucky lawyer, a hardware man, a tobacconist, an architect and an army Captain. An immense audience was present, and the receipts amounted to between $6,000 and $7,000.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.—The Calaveras Chronicle of March 11th says:

On Saturday night last, as Henry Ball, of this place, was about retiring, some miscreant fired a pistol at him, the ball passing through the window, hitting the bed-post. He was hanging his coat on the post at the time. It is supposed that the would be murderers imagined that it was still on his person, as the shot went through the garment.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 25.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Ours'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

WHERE is the Road Commissioner, and what is he doing? We thought Sacramento street was to be repaired from Morris' Livery Stable to Main street, widened so as to allow teams to get up the rise to Main street. Has he abandoned the work as a bad job? The citizens of Dutch Flat pay their road tax, and should receive the benefit of the money they pay into the treasury. The road leading to the Steam Saw Mill is still in a most wretched condition and should be attended to immediately. With the number of toll-roads, and those constructed by private enterprise during the last year or two, it is surprising to one not cognizant of all the facts, that we have not good roads in this township. Applegate, during the time mentioned, has built by subscription some eight or ten miles of road; Maden's toll-road runs from a point just this side of Illinoistown to within two miles of this place; the Dutch Flat and Donner Lake wagon road come within a mile of town, and leads over the mountains, leaving but a small strip of road to be repaired by the Road Commissioner, and yet we are told that the portions of the road owned by the county are in a most miserable and disgraceful condition. When persons are compelled to pay toll whenever they travel, they are apt to pay their road tax with unwillingness, which would not be the case were they satisfied as to the disposition of the funds collected. We do not know the exact amount of tax paid for road purposes the past year, but shall inquire; though we feel confident the amount was sufficient to have given us much better roads than we have now.

NEW HOTEL.—We hear of an enterprise started on Tuesday last to build a fire-proof hotel on the corner of Main and Sacramento streets. The company is to be immediately incorporated, with a capital stock of $100,000. The building is to be three stories high, with a basement fronting on Sacramento street, and the main entrance on Main street, fronting forty feet. Should this enterprise be carried to completion, we may date the permanence of the town from the opening of the house. There is no better location in town for a first-class hotel than the site named, nor is there a better opening for a hotel—such an one as is proposed to be built—than Dutch Flat. We do not, by this, mean that we have no good hotels now, for the NATIONAL is kept in a style fully equal to any in the interior, and with its landlord in a large, commodious house, we would be able to boast of a hotel as finely kept as any in the State. We wish the enterprise God-speed, and shall pray for an early completion of the work, whether the prayers of the ungodly availeth or not.

A GOOD MOVE.—We are glad to see that our citizens have at length awakened to the necessity of grading Main street, which has been immeasurably improved from the junction of Sacramento and Thompson Hill streets, making it what it from the first should have been, capable of being traveled by vehicles laden with full freight. Although the work that has already been done improves the thoroughfare immensely, there is yet much more needed. The street should be graded its entire width and length, the corner of Main and Sacramento streets filled up so as to make a uniform grade, and Sacramento street, from the corner of Main to a point above the ENQUIRER office, filled up about eight feet, after which teams and every description of travel would come through the town instead of going around it, as they do now. This work can be completed at a trifling cost, if all our property-holders will but follow the praiseworthy example set them by the residents and merchants on Main street. After the work is completed, we will then be in a condition to receive the travel, and not before, and the sooner those who are interested in the prosperity of the town realize the fact the better.

PUBLIC SCHOOL.—We understand that it is the intention of the Board of School Trustees to submit to the tax-payers of the School District a proposition to levy a tax for the purchase of a new house for school purposes. This is now imperatively necessary, from the fact that the present school building is too small to accommodate the increased number of scholars. There are in daily attendance at the public school some ninety children, a number entirely too large to receive the required attention from one teacher, besides making it uncomfortable and unhealthy for those in attendance. The amount of money to be raised for this purpose will be comparatively small, and taking into consideration the great importance of the welfare of the children of the town, our people, we are certain, will acquiesce in the proposition. We should pay as much regard to the physical as to the mental culture of our children, as the one is an indispensable auxiliary to the other. Let us be taxed, Messrs. Trustees.

PERSONAL.—J. A. McClelland, Grand Master of the I. O. O. F., passed through our town on the 24th instant. He is making official visits to several subordinate Lodges in the State, and reports the Order to be in a very flourishing condition wherever he has been.

A. H. Goodrich, Esq., County Superintendent of Public Instruction, paid our sanctum a visit on Thursday last. Mr. G. looks to be in excellent and is in good spirits. Our county should be proud of the services of this able and energetic officer. He has probably done more to bring the school system into practical working order than any one who has preceded him, and the people would serve their own interests, and bestow a lasting benefit on the rising generation by retaining him in his present position.

FLOUR is now selling in this place at $10 per hundred. Two weeks ago the merchants asked $11 per hundred, and got it. This is said to be owing to the action of the dealers below, who have bought up all there was in market, and the recent fall in the article is, that a cargo or two lately arrived in San Francisco from foreign ports. Be this as it may, it is evident from the published prices of merchants in neighboring towns that our people are paying more, not only for flour, but for all the necessaries of life than the same can be bought for elsewhere.

[COMMUNICATED.

MR. EDITOR:—On my second visit to your town I was pleased to see some your citizens earnestly engaged in grading Main, the principal business street of the town, from Grohs' butcher shop towards the upper end of the village. "Better late than never." I certainly wish them the greatest success in the good work in which they are engaged, for nothing, in my opinion, adds so much to the respectable appearance of a business place as a good thoroughfare; and all who expect to remain residents of your pleasant little town are, to a certain extent, interested in every improvement which may be started that is at all calculated to improve it, and I believe the most of your business men and the respectable portion of the community favor the enterprise. I learn, however, that one, who is supposed to be more directly interested in the improvement going on by reason of the amount of property which stands in his name, and the nature of the business in which he is engaged, has utterly refused to lend a helping hand to those engaged in the bettering of the condition of your streets. I allude to the proprietor of the Dutch Flat Hotel, on the corner of Main and Stockton streets. This action on his part is the more surprising to a visitor when he learns that the California Stage Company's office is kept at his hotel, and he would naturally be thought to be pecuniarily interested at least in having a good road for the coaches to run over. I am told that he was lately offered the handsome sum of ten thousand dollars for his shebang, but neglected to close the bargain in time for a sale. I should think that the old adage of "a fool and his money," was very near being filled by the reckless individual who made the offer. Your people should mark all those who act in a manner inimical to your interests, and this marking should be carried to a proscription in all matter of patronage. Those who are not for you are certainly against you. Persons who make self a ruling power should, in a small community like yours, be given to understand that the climate has ceased to be congenial.

March 23, 1865. ENQUIRER.

DISGRACEFUL.—The stage-coach for Newcastle, on the morning of the 23d inst., stalled in the street, opposite Dr. Strong's residence, and the driver had to take the baggage off the coach in order to get the wheels out of the mud. We think it time to call the attention of the Road Commissioner and everybody else to the fact that it is a disgrace to the town that the stages are unable to get out, owing to the condition of the roads. The water logs that were laid across the road at the point indicated are broken, and the water running out causes the hole. Somebody ought to attend to it.

Since the above was in type, we have learned that the water-logs do not cross the street, consequently the Road Commissioner is entitled to the entire praise for the delectable mud-hole at the point named.

FISH.—Mr. N. I. Hammond, the accommodating agent of the California Stage Company at this place, will please receive our thanks for the fine mountain trout presented to us on Wednesday last. They were splendid, and the only complaint we have to make is, that we did not get a ton! We thank you, Hammond, and may you retain your Falstaffian proportions till your sun of life shall sink into a peaceful haven of eternal bliss. All for the fish!

ALL AT WORK.—During the grading of Main street, last week, we noticed bankers, ditch-men, dry-goods merchants, butchers, clothiers, grocers, miners, and in fact representatives from all professions and trades, shoveling, picking and wheeling, making the enterprise the most unanimous, and consequently the most popular, that has been inaugurated in this place for many a day. This is as it should be, and shows what can be done when our people act in concert. May it ever be so.

NOTICE the advertisement of Mr. O. N. Swift, Watchmaker and Jeweler, in an another column. He is said to be an excellent workman in the precious metals, and those who want a really fine article of jewelry can be satisfied both in quality and price by calling on him at Dr. Strong's Drug Store, where he has a most recherché assortment of every description of goods.

A SOLVENT INSTITUTION.—There was $803,000 in the State Treasury, and $188,513 in the General Fund, at the close of business on the 18th inst. The following orders are payable: On the Soldiers' Relief Fund, up to No. 3 197; on the Soldiers' Bounty Fund, up to No. 5 943; on the Military Fund, up to No. 5,810, dated prior to 1st of July, 1863. Warrants on other Funds are all payable, except on the Swamp Land Districts' Fund.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last, John Johnson, a Dane, was accidentally killed at Humbug Cañon, in this county. His partner was felling a tree, and Johnson took refuge under a board, when the tree fell square across the board, killing him instantly.

A WINDFALL IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.—Fortune, proverbially fickle, sometimes dispenses her favors with a happy discrimination. At the breaking out of the rebellion, Captain Hopkins, late of the U. S. steamer Saginaw, a veteran of twenty-five years' service in the American Navy, was the proprietor of a tract of some sixty thousand acres of land in Western Virginia known as the Great Kanawha Valley. War desolated the State, and visited with its blighting vicissitudes, in a marked manner, this section, until the partisan bands that had made it their lair were expelled by the Union forces. When the slaveholding States declared against the Federal Government, Captain Hopkins espoused the National cause, and removed his family to Philadelphia for safety, where they have since resided in very moderate circumstances. Since the restoration of Western Virgina to the exclusive dominion of the National Government, the Valley of the Kanawha has been found to be rich in the yield of petroleum. Over eighty wells are said to have been sunk on Captain Hopkins' old farm, and speculation and capital have turned thitherward. A short time since, it is stated, Captain Hopkins received by telegraph an offer of $1,800,000 for his estate. At his request the Department has transferred him to service on the Atlantic side, to afford him an opportunity of attending to his private affairs, and he went East by the steamer of Monday last. A stroke of good fortune could not have fallen where it was more deserved, and the Captain's wide circle of friends share with him the gratification he must feel at this auspicious turn to his prospects.—S. F. Call.

IMPORTANT TO EVERYBODY.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue gives notice that after the first of Feb. 1865, persons executing receipts for the delivery of any property must affix a two cent stamp to such receipts and cancel the same, otherwise they will be prosecuted for the penalty of $200, incurred under section 158 of the act of June 20, 1864. Receipts for the delivery of coal, wood, &c., will, it appears, require a stamp hereafter.

M. E. B.—Your communication is received and will appear in our next.

NEW YORK TO BE TAKEN.

DANO-REBEL IRON-CLADS TO DO IT.

The following item of news will doubtless surprise many who have heretofore considered New York impregnable, from her immense batteries, to any attacks made by any enemy. The information is published in the New York Herald, in a correspondence dated Paris, January 24:

By a fortunate accident I am able to anticipate, I trust in time to mitigate a great disaster, the most startling intelligence that has crossed the Atlantic since the outbreak of the war. This will barely have reached you before two rebel iron-clads will have left the coast of France for the port of New York, where they expect to carry the first news of the expedition. These vessels, which are admirable sea boats, as one of them has proved during the recent heavy storms in the North Sea, are of the most formidable description, calculated to resist any artillery in our navy, except, perhaps the monitor guns. They will take abundant coal for the Atlantic voyage, without stopping at the islands, and are armed with Armstrongs of the heaviest calibre, as well as an enormous supply of rockets. No doubt is entertained of their perfect ability to carry with ease the fortifications in New York harbor, and hold the harbor against any force that could possibly be sent to the rescue. The city is then to be laid under contribution, or, in the event of refusal, to be fired. The leaders of the expedition, however, expect an outbreak in the city itself, and that the Copperheads will seize the moment of panic and confusion to declare New York independent from the Union and the State, and a free port.

To show that I do not exaggerate the formidable character of these vessels, it is only necessary name them, as during their construction, many of our naval officers have inspected them. They are known as the Sphynx and the Cheops; but on hoisting their flag will be respectively called the Stonewall and Rapidan. You are doubtless aware that before the keel of either of these vessels was laid at Bordeaux the personal word of Louis Napoleon was pledged to their delivery, with everything except powder on board. The diligence and skill of Mr. Dayton, who succeeded in gaining over the confidential clerk of one of the contractors, and then procuring the very originals of the contract with the rebel agents, frustrated the plan as originally conceived. The French Government found it necessary to make an appearance of preserving its neutrality. The Minister of Marine withdrew the authority to ship guns, and some wooden vessels, also included in the same contract, were really bona fide sold and delivered to neutral Powers. This allayed suspicion, and uneasiness, and the Imperial conspirator and his rebel friends felt safe in resuming the plot, especially after Mr. Dayton's death had removed the chief obstacle to success. The poor Danes were made the catspaw in the affair. One of the iron-clads was sold to them, and sailing from Bordeaux duly arrived in Copenhagen, and was forgotten. The German press is too lazy, and that of France under too strict a surveillance to see anything on which the Tuileries want them to be blind. What intrigues passed in that obscure corner of Europe I do not know. Suffice it that the iron-clad, supposed to have been delivered to Denmark, sailed two days ago from Copenhagen, with all her armament on board, the affair having been so managed through the French diplomatic and consular agents there as to get her returned to her owner, Mr. Armand a friend and protege of the Emperor, and a Government member of the Corps Legislatiff. Meanwhile the sister ship, which is nominally sold to Prussia, profiting by the voyage of the other, will sail without suspicion ostensibly for Hamburg, but in reality to meet her consort at a lonely island off the coast, which the "Danish" ship may be expected to reach in about ten days. Then both of them will be met by tenders having on board coal, powder and men, some one hundred and twenty for each, independently of such of the present neutral crews as may be tempted to enlist. The transfer can be made in a few hours, the tenders will have distant destinations and discreet captains, so that with the exception of this letter, the first news you in New York will probably have of the unprecedented treachery of France will be the arrival of a Franco rebel iron-clad armada.

You will ask why I, knowing this plot, do not frustrate it? I can only reply that there are solemn obligations binding me on this side of the Atlantic which do not extend to the other, and that I am doing the best my conscience allows me. The facts will only too soon prove the accuracy of my information, and if you neglect my anxious warning, it will be at your own peril.

I have reason to believe that the secret treaty which is known to exist between France and the Confederacy was not intended to run so soon the risk of exposure, and it is possible that the French legation at Washington is really kept in ignorance of it, so that the disavowal may be made with all the appearance of conviction and truth. Louis Napoleon fears no other element of French public opinion except the antipathy to slavery, which is stronger and more universal here than in England, and which is, moreover, represented by Prince Napoleon. It is upon this hint that the Richmond papers have lately set up a clamor about emancipation, which is diligently worked by the innumerable organs over here. Besides, it has been agreed upon by the "high" contracting parties that the 4th of March and the inauguration of President Lincoln under a new election, which is alleged to have utterly modified the constituency of the United States Government, should be awaited for any compromising step. But it appears that the recent reverses of the rebels have so alarmed Louis, or the favorable progress of Mexican affairs so emboldon him, as to overcome the scruples and timidity of Drouyn de Lhuys and hasten the denouement. At all events, the result is that two rebel iron-clads, fully manned and equipped, and in many respects superior to anything that has yet been built of the kind on either side of the water, will, within a fortnight, be en route for New York.

HIT THE NAIL ON THE HEAD.—The Shasta Courier, after consideration, remarks as follows:

For some time past we have noticed among our exchanges, notices to the effect that funds donated by this State to the Sanitary Fund were subject to large deductions in San Francisco to pay salaried agents and clerks. We know of our knowledge that the fund is largely taxed there for printing circulars, and to judge by what we and others in this vicinity receive in the shape of printed matter, we believe the fund is more taxed than benefited thereby. We believe that a philanthropic individual might be found at the Bay City, who would give his time, while others give their money to this holy cause. We are credibly informed that members of the Christian Commission charge no salaries—that their work is done gratis. What we do is done on the same terms, and we hold that the Sanitary Fund should be distributed in like manner. If we are misinformed in this matter the San Francisco Commission Agency can set us right. If they fail to do so—well, we'll have something more to say.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—A young man named George Sperber, says the Petaluma Argus, while riding between this city and San Antonio Creek, had occasion to dismount to open a gate, but did not take the precaution to disengage his left foot, and having on very heavy boots, discovered when too late, that his foot was fast in the stirrup. The horse, becoming frightened took to the road dragging the unfortunate man over half a mile, when he was rescued from his perilous condition by a gentleman who caught the horse, and cut the stirrup straps. Sperber, although frightfully bruised, is in a fair way to recover.

INDIAN FIGHT.

ALL KILLED BUT ONE.

ONE SOLDIER WOUNDED.

The following is the account of an Indian fight which occurred near Mud Lake, Nevada, on Monday morning, the 14th inst. Mr. Charles A. Parker, whom the most of our citizens will remember, sends the Territorial Enterprise the following particulars:

Mr. Sickles and myself arrived here from our camp in the mountains late last evening, and found Captain Wells and his company of fifty men just in from a big Indian fight, which took place a few miles below here, near Mud Lake.

At sunrise, Tuesday morning, Captain Wells attacked a camp of thirty Indians,—supposed to have belonged to the Smoky Creek tribe,—and cleaned them all out, with the exception of a single savage.

The fighting I learn from an eye witness, was of the most desperate character. The Indians fought like very devils, but were all slain by our gallant boys after a running fight of three hours. The dead bodies of the Indians now lie scattered along a distance of ten miles.

This summary punishment of the Indians in this section by Captain Wells and his brave band, has, I hope, taught them a lesson which they will not soon forget, and which will make them let up a little on their thieving and murderous propensities.

The command captured twenty guns and nine horses, and burned all of the enemy's powder and provisions. But one scalp was taken, as the boys were in too much of a hurry—having marched fifty miles the day before, and then started before sunrise, without their breakfasts, for the scene of the battle.

Take this affair altogether, it is one of the most brilliant exploits I recollect ever having read of; and the thanks of the people of the entire State are due to Captain Wells' gallant band for this signal service rendered in their behalf.

By the way, I had forgotten to state that only thirty of the troops participated in the engagement—the balance of the command having been left at camp to guard against any surprise.

The only casualty among the troops was the wounding of Corporal Dolan slightly in the shoulder by a musket ball. Captain Wells received a bullet through his coat under the arm. Many narrow escapes, however, are mentioned, but I have not time at present to mention them.

Captain Wells says he cannot praise the conduct of his little band of troops too much, as they all did noble duty and acted bravely—many of them having hand-to-hand conflicts with the savage foe.

Winnemucca will call all of his tribe in to-day, when a grand pow-wow will be held with Captain Wells and Mr. Gillson, Indian Agent. The old chief thinks that he has now got enough of "blood and thunder," and is willing to let the lives and property of the "white folks" alone for all time to come. There is no doubt but some of his tribe were among those killed in the late battle. But if they ever do rise again, Capt Wells is the boy that can quell them.

The battle-field is a horrible sight to view this morning. Some of the Indians are shot and cut all to pieces, so desperate did they fight before they would give up the ghost and depart for the big Indian hunting grounds.

It is not thought that there is now any further danger, and our prospecting will go on as usual. I will keep you posted in affairs out here whenever there is an opportunity to send in a letter.

P. S.—In addition to what was mentioned above, there was also destroyed ten lodges, besides a large lot of fresh beef and bows and arrows—in fact, the entire camp was wiped out.

The following additional dispatches in regard to the recent Indian murders in Humboldt county and the measures taken by the military authorities have been published:

UNIONVILLE, Nev., March 15, 1865.

TO GOV. BLASDEL: The Indians are committing depredations on the Honey Lake road. Can you send us any troops? Several attacks have been made on parties traveling that road within the past few days. THOMAS EWING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 14, 1865.

TO GOV. BLASDEL: All the troops in Nevada and at Owen's river, have been formed into a subdistrict, under the command of Major McDermit, who is ordered to give all the protection they can afford to the people in the State of Nevada.

R. C. DRUM, A. A. G.

FORT CHURCHILL, Nevada, March 15, 1865.

TO GOV BLASDEL: I will ask General Wright to order fifty mounted men from Camp Nye to Honey Lake, and as soon as an answer is received I will let you know.

CHARLES McDERMIT, Major Commanding Post.

The following dispatch was received Thursday by Senator Hutchins, of Humboldt, in reply to one sent, asking for information in regard to the Indian difficulties there, and how near to Star City the two white men were recently killed. Mr. Hutchins is in Carson at present, actively at work to afford his constituents the desired relief:

STAR CITY, Nevada, March 15, 1865.

The two men were killed within sixty miles of this place. The nearest Indians threatening us are yet at St Mary's on the Humboldt river, about twenty miles from here. Urge the Governor to send troops and arms to our military companies. E F. DUNNE.

In compliance with this request, Adjutant General Cradlebaugh has gathered up all the spare arms belonging to the various military organizations and dispatched them to the scene of hostilities. The prompt action taken by the authorities in the matter, and the summary lesson taught the savages by Captain Wells, impels the belief that the disturbances will be quieted before they swell into a general Indian war.

A DUEL.—A duel was fought at Long Valley, Nevada, on Friday, the 10th inst., between Boss Fouke and Charles Safford, alias "Handsome Charley," both well known gamblers. The weapons used were navy revolvers. After the preliminaries were arranged, pistols were placed in the hands of the combatants. Safford, says the Virginia Union, appeared quite jovial, while Fouke looked firm and full of fight. The signal, "One, two, three," was given, and both fired at the word, almost simultaneously, though Fouke's pistol exploded first. It was evident that Fouke was struck at the first fire. He swerved to the right, still firing upon his antagonist, and held down his head, while Safford advanced about two paces on a direct line, also firing rapidly. At the third fire Safford's pistol snapped, but every shot was expended before the affair closed. It was then ascertained that Fouke was shot, as he was bleeding profusely. He was taken to a building near by, and attended by Dr. Watts. The ball, it was found, had passed through the fleshy part of the right breast, and ploughed a deep furrow through the left. The wound is not dangerous. A ball cut through the coat of Safford, on the shoulder; an inch lower would have winged him. Both men displayed grit and coolness. They afterwards met, we are told, shook hands, and made up. About one hundred and fifty people were present to witness the entertainment.

SAND CLUBS.—Some of the New York robbers are now armed with a new weapon, called a "sand club." It consists of a canvas bag twenty inches long and two inches thick, filled with sand. A blow from this terrible weapon leaves no mark, though its effects, if received upon the head, would be fatal.

CHINESE doctors are the fashionable rage in San Francisco just now, and some half-dozen saddle-colored, almond-eyed, pig-tailed, opium-smoking, sandal-scented quacks are reaping a rich harvest from the credulity of the metropolitan bon ton.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—Should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of diarrhœa, dysentery, and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed camp life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's Preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number nor the manner of directing your letter. MEDICAL CARD.—Success is said to be the criterion of merit. If this is so, Dr. Doherty is not an exception to the rule. Of the many physicians who advertise to cure the particular branches to which he has devoted his particular study, none has attained that wondrous and general practice which daily attend at his office. The great Ricord, of Paris, specially devoted his attention to the particular branch of Medicine denominated Specific and Chronic. Dr. Doherty has determined to do the same. Read his advertisement in another column, and the sworn statement of cures.

R. H. McDONALD & CO., San Francisco.

TRAVEL TO IDAHO.—We see, by an advertisement in the Red Bluff Independent, that the Idaho Stage Company announce to the travelling public that their first saddle train will leave Chico on Monday, March 20th, for the above place, carrying the provisions and blankets of passengers free of charge. There are on the route only about one hundred miles on which there are no houses, so that passengers can regulate the quantity of their provisions accordingly. Trains will leave every morning after the 20th. As soon as the road settles, wagons will leave Chico and Red Bluff for Susanville, to connect with the trains at that point.

The principal mover in the affair is Hill Beachy, formerly proprietor of the Luna Hotel at Red Bluff, and later a Sheriff of one of the interior counties of Washington Territory. He will be recollected for his untiring energy in bringing the murderers of Lloyd Magruder to justice. Beachy is now engaged in breaking horses and fitting out teams at the Centerville Race Course for travel on the route. The fare, by the saddle train, at present, is $50.

AN old bachelor thus shortly and conclusively remarks of women: "If you don't marry them, they despise you. If you do, they abuse you. If you don't let them have their own way, they hate you. If you do, they ruin you. If they see a better looking fellow than yourself and take a fancy to him, ten to one but they run away from you. Get married! Not if I know myself.

THE following peculiar "notis" was found posted in a little town in Delaware;

Reward—Lost or strayed from the Premuse of the subScriber a sheep, oll over white, one legg was blakk and half his body. All pussons shall receive five dols to bring him back. He was a she goat.

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE

Established by
DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850,
For the Cure of Private Diseases of whatever nature
AND ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,
540 WASHINGTON STREET,
SAN FRANCISCO, : : : : : CALIFORNIA
NO CURE, NO PAY.

Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. For direction of letters, see below.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE has enjoyed on this coast an uninterupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength and vigor from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold ever over the one afflicted, the sword of destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venerial, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured: the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all diseasses entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT

Cures are Always Guaranteed,

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all disorders of the Bladder, Kidneys and prostrate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient Consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, OR NO PAY REQUIRED at the PRIVATE

MEDICAL INSTITUTE,
No 540 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORROEA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lacivious dreams accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases, Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence toward a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principal of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim of his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult, then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance from business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy and the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation, by letter or otherwise, Free. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies or the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly acording testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"
The only Remedy for Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsical Swellings, Genital Debility, &c.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS attended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivaled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also
DIABETES,
IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorders or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revived and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the MRDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

Irritation of the neck of the Bladder. Inflammation of the Kidneys, and Catarrh of the Bladder, Strangury or Burning, or Painful Urinating, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-dust Deposit, and Mucous or Milky Discharges after Urinating.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and to much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms, TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give your praise to

INVENTORS, MECHANICS, AGRICULTURISTS,

Are directed to the annual prospectus of the cheapest and best Mechanical Journal in the world.

The Illustrated Scientific American,

A New Volume of which commences Jan. 1, 1865.

THIS VALUABLE JOURNAL HAS BEEN published nineteen years, and during all this time it has been the firm and steady advocate of the Inventor, Mechanic, Manufacturer, and Farmer, and the faithful chronicler of the progress of Art, Science and Industry.

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is the largest, the only reliable, and most widely circulated journal of the kind now published in the United States. It has witnessed the growth of nearly all the great inventions and discoveries of the day, most of which have been illustrated and described in its columns. It also contains a Weekly Official List of all the Patent Claims, a feature of great value to all Inventors and Patentees.

In the Mechanical Department, a full account of all improvements in Machinery will be given. Also practical articles upon the various Tools used in workshops and manufactories.

Steam and Mechanical Engineering will continue to receive careful attention, and all experiments and practical results attained will be fully recorded.

Woollen, Cotton and other Manufacturing Interests will have special attention. Also, Firearms, War Implements, Ordnance, War Vessels, Railway Machinery, Mechanics' Tools, Electric, Chemical and Mathematical Apparatus, Wood and Lumber Machines, Hydraulics, Pumps, Water wheels, etc.; Household and FARM IMPLEMENTS—this latter department being very full and of great value to Farmers and Gardeners; Articles embracing every department of Popular Science, which everybody can understand.

Patent Law Decisions and Discussions will, as heretofore, form a prominent feature. Owing to the very large experience of the publishers, Messrs. MUNN & Co., as Solicitors of Patents, this department of the paper will possess great interest to Patentees and inventors.

The year's numbers contain several hundred superb engravings; also reliable practical recipes, useful in every shop and household. Two volumes each year, 416 pages—total, 832 pages.

Terms:—$3 per year; $1 50 for six months
Specimen Copies sent FREE.

To the Afflicted.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, has references from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him, by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment and implicit secrecy.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

Dr. Doherty—Dear Sir: I feel my health so fully restored, that in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some written acknowledgment for your valuable services—particularly so as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. Being a stranger in this city, and believing those Doctors who gave such positive assurances of success were necessarily the best (some of whom have a large number of titles), I placed myself in their charge and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money.

I wish to say now that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed, and the only one that has ever done me any service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the Stricture is all removed, and my general health is better than it has been for years.

In conclusion I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you may employ, ask Dr. Doherty for my address and call and see me. (I keep store in this city.) My experience may save you many dollars.

I would also add that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorrhœa, Gleet, etc., but never derived any benefit from them.

I am, Doctor, very truly yours,
L—— H——.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS—A SWORN-TO CERTIFICATE OF MOST REMARKABLE CURE OF SPERMATORRHŒA.

A desire to benefit humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to Dr. W. K. Doherty, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I have been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal Weakness, the result of self-abuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience. In that year, however, I had Seminal weakness to an alarming extent, which was soon followed by the usual alarming symptoms, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind, too, was afflicted to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory; my ideas were confused and spirits depressed. I was averse to society, had evil forebodings and self-distrust, and was entirely unfitted for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the summer of 1862, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars, but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief. I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but seeing Dr. Doherty's advertisement, I thought I would call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with Dr. Doherty at his office, in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable, I determined to try him, though I did not expect much benefit from his treatment. On the 5th of December last I placed myself under his care; in one week I found myself very much improved, and now, after five weeks' treatment, I feel myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles and in the enjoyment of the best health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself JAMES JOHNSTON.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginities, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, they should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about their troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other Physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death All Married Ladies, whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families, should write or call at Dr. W. K. Dougherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, the usual fee of ten dollars enclosed, (by express or in a registered letter) personal communication will be superseded, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case itself (including the remedies), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.
